Like every year we also will organize the Onion Day(s) this year! Due to the Corona measures, we are giving the Onion Day a different look. With excursions on the different subjects and trials with lots of practical information as you are used from us, but this year without the information tent, demonstrations, etc.

Small groups

We will visit in small groups the different objects and trials of our interesting onion trial field. This offers you the opportunity to discuss more intensively with the trial field participants and your group members.

Two Onion Days!

The excursions last a maximum of two hours. In order to be able to offer this to as many growers as possible, we divide the excursions over two days. You can indicate your choice for the timeslot on the registration form.

Registration is required.

You are welcome. Registration is mandatory for a good organization!

Soil and water are key!

In the process of the emergence and growth of onions, soil and water together play the leading role this year. Extreme weather conditions are becoming more and more common, resulting in a greater cultivation risk. This is a reason for us to take the soil and water management into account in the trials. In addition to our usual themes, soil quality, drip irrigation, irrigation and adjustable drainage will be extensively covered this year.
